COMMUNITY

Look back with pride . . .

Chief Massasoit

The namesake of this colony, Massasoit, was born within the present boundaries of Massachusetts in 1580. His tribe, the Wampanoags, were located throughout the regions of Bristol, Rhode Island, and Massachusetts. The Wampanoags, who had at one time numbered several thousand, had almost been destroyed by an epidemic just before the arrival of the "Mayflower."

In March of 1621, an Indian named Samoset, who had been living among the English, came to the Plymouth colony and surprised the Pilgrims by speaking to them in English. He was Samoset, and had come to arrange a meeting between the Governor of the Plymouth colony, William Bradford, and the Chief of the Wampanoags, Massasoit. In this meeting, the first treaty of peace was signed by the two men, a treaty which held without violation for fifty-four years.

In 1623, Massasoit became ill and was visited by Edward Winslow who effected a cure. In return, Massasoit told Winslow that a neighboring tribe was to make an attack on the white men.

All through his reign as chief, Massasoit made a practice of living in harmony with the colonists. A writer of the time said of him:

"He was a chief renowned more in his character than in his strength and was, as long as he lived, a friend to the English, even as they committed many depredations upon his land and liberties."

Little is known about the chief's life after 1651, when he sold the site of Duxbury to the English, until his death in 1661.

Then and Now

The seed for Massasoit Community College was first planted in 1947 when a study of the needs for higher education was undertaken by the State Board of Education. One of the conclusions of that study was there existed a need for a low-cost state-supported system of junior colleges.

In 1965, seven years after the creation of the Massachusetts Regional Board of Community Colleges, a feasibility study conducted by the Brockton Area Chamber of Commerce and various associative committees resulted in a decision to locate a community college in the Brockton area. Less than one year later Dr. John W. Musselman became the first president of Massasoit Community College.

Operation of the new college began shortly thereafter in the Sprague School in Brockton. During the summer of 1966 more than 350 students registered for classes and 22 faculty members were hired to staff the college. The following September classes began at the Charles M. Frolio School in N. Abington.

During its first year of operation, Massasoit gained full membership in the American Association of Junior Colleges and the New England Jr. College Council. Such recognition for a college in its infancy is highly unusual and this early recognition presented unexpected problems to the administrators of the college. Federal Financial Aid in the form of veterans benefits and work-study grants sent enrollment soaring and in 1968 the college established a second campus at the former Howard School for Girls in West Bridgewater.

In March of 1967 the State legislature passed a law requiring all Massachusetts school systems to institute public kindergartens no later than 1971. Abington needed the Frolio School facilities and President Musselman began his search for a new campus. His search ended at Camp Mirrimar, a missionary seminary in Duxbury. Massasoit began its sixth year with over 1200 students on two temporary campuses. 650 students attended the campus at West Bridgewater and 850 attended classes in South Duxbury at the former Mirrimar Seminary.

After many financial, legislative and community problems were resolved, Massasoit Community College broke ground for Phase I of a new Brockton campus in October of 1969. Five structures were built, including three classroom buildings, a student union building and a maintenance building, and in the fall of 1972, Massasoit opened its permanent campus. One year later enrollment at the new college included over 1600 day students and over 1700 evening students.

On January 1, 1979, Dr. George E. Ayers became the second president of the college. In June, 1979, 659 graduates increased the number of alumni to 5961.

The second phase of construction is now completed and in September of 1979, 2700 day students and over 3500 evening students will attend classes in five classroom buildings. They will enjoy the facilities of a new physical education building that holds an olympic-sized swimming pool, handball courts and a new gymnasium. A new Fine Arts Center will offer advanced culture and entertainment and their academic advantages will increase with the addition of numerous programs.

The community college that began in a small Brockton elementary school has developed into a multi-million dollar institution of higher learning that is dedicated to meeting the academic and sociological needs of the community it serves. It is a model of education. It is Massasoit Community College 1979.

Dr. George E. Ayers, President

The President's Message

Since first visiting our Campus in November 1978, I have been privileged to experience your spirit of true mutual concern and respect that I believe represents the essence of Massasoit Community College. It has also been my genuine pleasure to witness the verve and the desire that you have displayed in pursuing your educational and personal goals. May I express my confidence that these same qualities will mark your future endeavors.

On behalf of the entire Massasoit community, I extend to you our most sincere congratulations and best wishes with the hope that you will return to visit us often.

In Memoriam

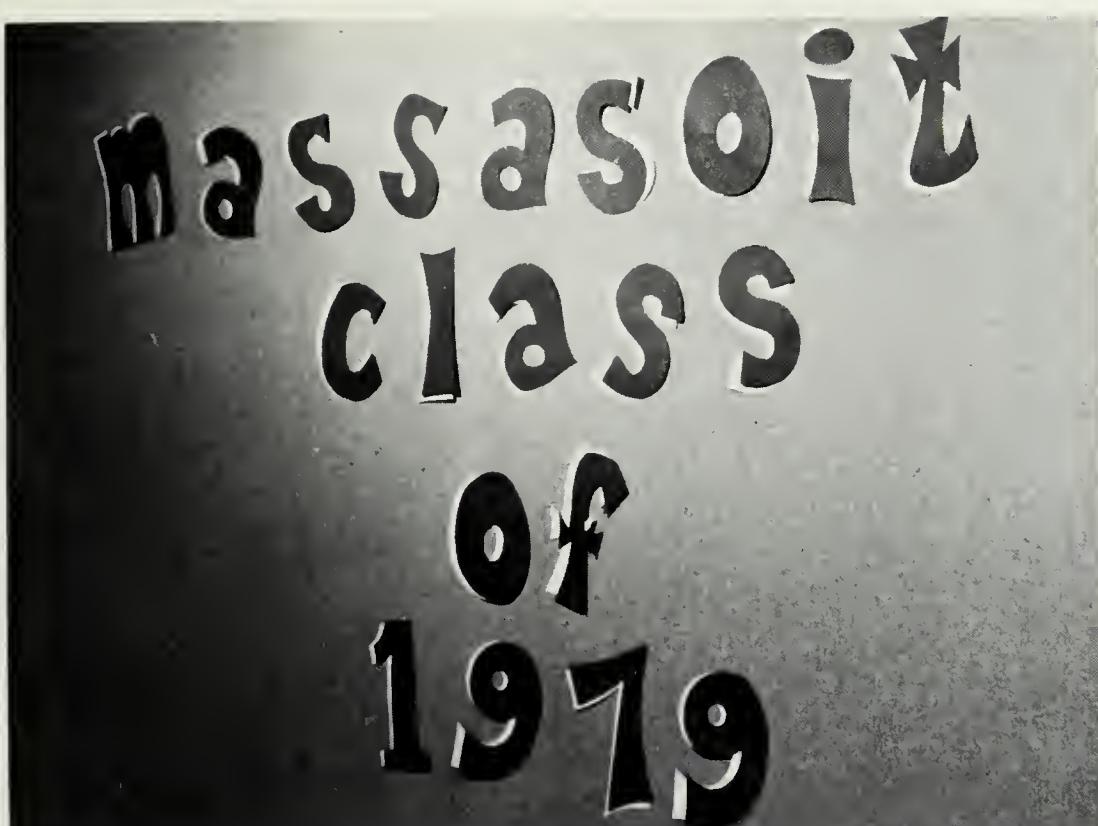

Mary Corbett entered Massasoit through LATCH in the fall of 1976. Despite her husband's illness and death and her own illness she continued on as a fine student and as an extraordinary tutor. She died in September of 1978.

The Joy of Unselfish Giving

*Time is not measured by the years that you live
But by the deeds that you do and the joy that you give –
And each day as it comes brings a chance to each one
To love to the fullest,
leaving nothing undone
That would brighten the life
or lighten the load
Of some weary traveler
lost on Life's Road –
So what does it matter
how long we may live
If as long as we live
we unselfishly give*
